

BBC Enterprises

DRAMA SERIAL

Duration 4 x 25 minute episodes

51: Destiny of the Daleks

This latest adventure in space and time takes the Doctor and his companion Romana (played for the first time by Lalla Ward) to a desolate planet, which transpires to be Skaro, home of the Doctor's oldest and deadliest enemy—the Daleks.

Here they meet a new and seemingly friendly race of aliens—the Movellans, recently arrived in a huge spaceship. The Movellans and the Daleks have been at war for centuries. Now their battle fleet computers have reached a logical stalemate and each side is looking for an advantage. The Daleks have returned to Skaro to retrieve their evil creator Davros, who could help them win the war. The Movellans, who are in fact a robot race, intend to use the Doctor for much the same purpose.

But the Doctor acts first by finding and kidnapping Davros. The Movellans attempt to destroy Davros, and with him the entire planet, by setting fire to the atmosphere. Fortunately their attempt fails and, with the Doctor's help, a party of the Dalek's slave workers overcome the Movellans. Then the Daleks mount a 'kamikaze' mission against the Movellan ship, perishing in the attempt.

TOM BAKER as The Doctor and LALLA WARD as Romana

Davros is sent to Earth to stand trial as a war criminal and the Doctor explains to Romana how the battle computer stalemate could have been resolved by either side switching off their computer to fight illogically and so confuse the opposition.

Written by Terry Nation
Directed by Ken Grieve
Produced by Graham Williams

Colour videotape
Code no: 70101

CAST

Doctor Who.....TOM BAKER
Romana.....LALLA WARD
Commander Sharrel.....PETER STRAKER
Tyssan.....TIM BARLOW
Davros.....DAVID GOODERSON
Agella.....SUZANNE DANIELLE
Lan.....TOBY OSOBA
Jall.....PENNY CASDAGLI
Veldan.....DAVID YIP

Movellans and LALLA WARD as Romana

TOM BAKER as The Doctor and PETER STRAKER as Sharrel

SUZANNE DANIELLE as Agella

TOM BAKER as the Doctor

CITY OF DEATH Serial 5H

What begins as a holiday in Paris (1979) for the Doctor and Romana develops into something more sinister when they meet Duggan, an English detective, and become involved in an alien plot to steal that most famous of art treasures, the Mona Lisa.

The plot is masterminded by the Count and Countess Scarlioni. The Count is really an alien called Scaroth who was splintered in time when his Jagaroth spaceship exploded on take-off from pre-historic Earth. Consequently he exists in 12 different Earth times. Using this to his advantage, he has conducted massive art frauds to finance experiments with a time travel machine, which he hopes will take him back to the point where he can prevent the explosion of his spaceship.

In a room which has been sealed for centuries in the Count's cellar the Doctor discovers six apparently genuine Mona Lisas. The Tardis takes him to Renaissance Italy where he hopes to talk the matter over with his old friend Leonardo da Vinci. But Leonardo is not there and the Doctor meets the evil Captain Tancredi — another manifestation of Scaroth — who is forcing da Vinci to paint more Mona Lisas.

Back in Paris — under the threat of the city's destruction — Romana is forced to help Count Scarlioni. He travels back to pre-historic times, hotly pursued by the Doctor, who has realised that the explosion of the Jagaroth spaceship was the blast of radiation which triggered the development of life on Earth.

JOHN CLEESE

JULIAN GLOVER as Count Scarlioni

Thanks to Doctor Who, Scaroth's plan is foiled and the course of history remains unaltered.

For the making of this series 'Dr Who' went to Paris — the first visit to a foreign film location in the programme's 16 year history. There is also one of the strongest cast lists of recent years.

CAST AND CREDITS

Doctor Who .....	TOM BAKER
Romana .....	LALLA WARD
Count Scarlioni .....	JULIAN GLOVER
Countess Scarlioni .....	CATHERINE SCHELL
Duggan .....	TOM CHADBON
Professor Kerensky .....	DAVID GRAHAM
Hermann .....	KEVIN FLOOD
Soldier .....	PETER HALLIDAY
Art Patrons .....	ELEANOR BRON
	JOHN CLEESE

Written by David Agnew

Produced by Graham Williams

Colour videotape

Code No. 70107

CATHERINE SCHELL as Countess Scarlioni and TOM BAKER as the Doctor.

The Creature From The Pit Serial 5G

In answer to a distress signal, the Doctor, Romana and K9 land on Chloris — an abundantly fertile planet on which metal has become a highly valuable commodity. They fall into the hands of the Lady Adrasta whose power is derived from her monopoly on the planet's metal. She polices her subjects with carnivorous tumbleweeds ('Wolfweeds') in the control of her Huntsman.

All those who displease her are thrown into the Pit — a worked out mine — there to be consumed by a terrifying creature.

The Doctor enters the Pit and befriends Organon — an astrologer of sorts and the only one to have survived the creature. The Doctor comes face to face with the creature and discovers that it is in fact a trading ambassador called Erato who had come to Chloris to suggest a mutually beneficial trading agreement — exchanging metal for chlorophyll. Because Adrasta stood to lose her power by such a deal she deprived Erato of his communicating device and lured him into the Pit.

TOM BAKER as The Doctor

LALLA WARD as Romana

K9

Unfortunately a distress signal from Erato's spacecraft had triggered a neutron star from his home planet, programmed to collide with Chloris' sun. With Erato's help the Doctor deflects the star from its course and helps set up a trading agreement between the two planets. Adrasta is killed by Erato and Chloris is left in the enlightened care of her former henchman, the Huntsman.

MAIN CAST

Dr Who .....	TOM BAKER
Romana .....	LALLA WARD
Adrasta .....	MYRA FRANCES
Karela .....	EILEEN WAY
Organon .....	GEOFFREY BAYLDON
Huntsman .....	DAVID TEFLER
Voice of K9 .....	DAVID BRIERLEY

Directed by Christopher Barry

Produced by Graham Williams

Colour videotape
Code No. 70118/083

LALLA WARD as Romana and TOM BAKER as the Doctor.

NIGHTMARE OF EDEN

SERIAL 5K

In the latest Doctor Who adventure a space collision triggers off a sinister chain of events which involves the Doctor, Romana and K9 in a drug smuggling racket.

In the course of his investigations the Doctor has to contend with hordes of revolting mud formed jungle monsters called Mandrels and Zip, the most dangerous addictive drug in the Universe.

THE STORY

After a crash in space, two spacecraft are locked together. On one is a naturalist, Tryst and his woman assistant, Della, who have with them a continuous Event Transmuter, a machine which allows whole areas of land to be removed from planets and stored on laser crystals, along with the local fauna. This is apparently part of a conservation exercise.

As a result of the crash the machine becomes unstable, releasing hordes of Mandrels into the passenger ship. At the same time, the Doctor discovers that some unknown person is smuggling Zip, the most dangerous drug in the Universe, on board with the result that the Doctor himself becomes the prime suspect of the local customs men.

With the help of an undercover narcotics agent,

The Mandrels

the Doctor manages to prove his innocence by discovering that the Mandrels themselves are the source of the drug. By putting them on to a crystal recording, Tryst had discovered the perfect smuggling ploy and was in the process of beaming the crystal recording to the pilot of the other ship when the crash upset his plans.

The Doctor, with the help of Romana and K9, manages to fight off the Mandrels, separate the ships and capture the smugglers.

CAST AND CREDITS

Doctor Who ..... TOM BAKER
 Romana ..... LALLA WARD
 Voice of K9 ..... DAVID BRIERLEY
 Dymond ..... GEOFFREY BATEMAN
 Tryst ..... LEWIS FIANDER
 Della ..... JENNIFER LONSDALE

Music by Dudley Simpson

Written by Bob Baker

Producer: Graham Williams

Director: Alan Bromly

Colour videotape

Code No. 70129

K9 faces a Mandrel

BBC Enterprises

DRAMA SERIAL

Four x 25 minutes

The Horns of Nimon

SERIAL 5L

The Nimon, a terrifying figure not unlike the Minotaur—a huge man with a bull's head—dominates this chilling Doctor Who adventure.

It begins with the Doctor losing both Romana and the Tardis and in his efforts to regain them he becomes involved in a bizarre world of human sacrifices and evil power complexes.

THE STORY

While the Tardis is immobilised for repairs it falls into a gravity whirlpool along with a damaged ship taking a group of young men and women to the planet Skonnos as sacrifices for the Nimon.

The Nimon has promised the Skonnos a mighty military empire if they will first build a labyrinthine complex for him and bring him sacrifices.

The Doctor repairs the Skonnos ship but gets left behind in his defunct Tardis by the treacherous co-pilot who flies on to Skonnos taking Romana with him. But when a giant asteroid hits the Tardis, the Doctor escapes from the gravity whirlpool, lands on Skonnos and penetrates the complex just in time to save Romana and the sacrifices.

He discovers that the Nimon complex is a power generator which is causing the gravity whirlpool in space and thereby building a Black Hole through which the rest of the Nimon race will travel to Skonnos and take it over.

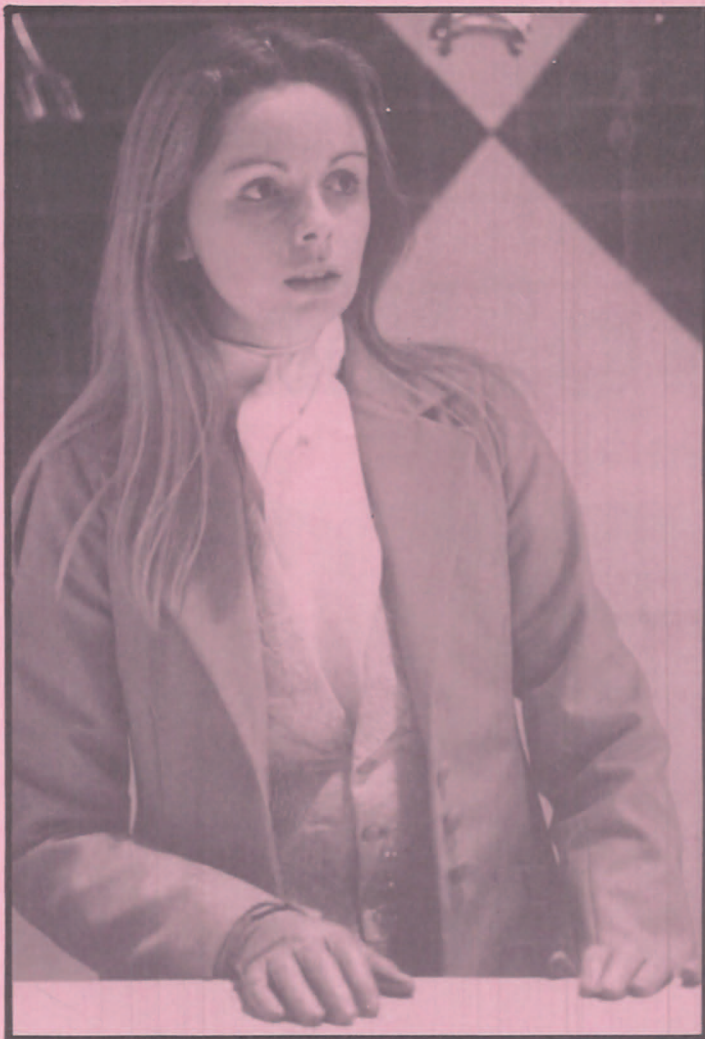

TOM BAKER as Dr. Who and GRAHAM CROWDEN as Soldeed

Nimon in central chamber of complex on Skonnos

LALLA WARD as Romana

Romana accidentally gets sent through the Black Hole to Crinoth, the last planet the Nimons settled on. She discovers they too were duped by the Nimons into building a complex and were then wiped out when millions more Nimons arrived like a plague of locusts.

Romana returns to Skonnos and armed with this knowledge she and the Doctor defeat the Nimons.

CAST

Doctor Who . . . . . TOM BAKER
 Romana . . . . . LALLA WARD
 Voice of K9 . . . . . DAVID BRIERLEY
 Sorak . . . . . MICHAEL OSBORNE
 Soldeed . . . . . GRAHAM CROWDEN
 Voice of Nimon CLIFFORD NORRIDGE
 Nimon . . . . . ROBIN SHERRINGHAM
 Pilot . . . . . BOB HORNER
 Co-pilot . . . . . MALCOLM TERRIS

Written by Anthony Read
 Producer: Graham Williams
 Director: Kenny McBain

Colour videotape
 Code no: 70147/084

MALCOLM TERRIS as Co-pilot